[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i.e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind-of-business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification, see complete text, page 51.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales figures in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business listed above. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdowns of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage; i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification see complete text, page 7.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities in each classification see complete text, p. 7.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage; i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage; i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind-of-business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification see complete text, page 7.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage; i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification see complete text, p. 7.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind-of-business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities in each classification see complete text page 7.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table includes the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances
